REACHING TOWARD OUR CELEBRATION

*the days I thought
Could never end are gone.
All the days that seemed so far away have passed.
All the loves I thought would last forever
have died.
So many happy moments
are now happy memories,
But . . . I still have tomorrows filled with the hope of things to come.
And although I watch the sunset now,
I know it will rise again.

DEDICATION

Dear Family and Loved Ones,

You have celebrated and struggled with us through three years of nurses' training. You were there to share our joy when we received our letters of acceptance. And you were there to lift us out of the depths of depression when we discovered that nurses' training wasn't quite what we expected it to be. You listened patiently to our glowing accounts of first injections and completed projects. You were there to offer support when care plans brought despair. Many were the times you gave us confidence and courage to go on.

We haven't forgotten the little things you've done. You helped us move our belongings to and from the residence five times. You supported our class by buying items which we sold as money-making projects. And occasionally you slipped homemade cookies into our suitcases!

We want to apologize for the times when our patience wore thin and our tempers flared. We were and are grateful for all you've done.

And now, as we move our belongings from the residence for the last time, as we close our books and accept our stripes we pause to dedicate our yearbook to you. May this dedication in some small way repay you for the love and support you have shared so freely.

Lovingly,
Your Student Nurse

Recognition

We, the class of 1982, recognize what an important role you, our housemothers, play here at WHSN. Your cheery smiles welcomed us at the desk so many times. We've joked and laughed with you and for these times we are truly grateful. Then there were the times when nobody else would listen and you were there to care, listen patiently and lovingly offer us a bit of hope. We always felt relieved after sharing our burdens with you and shedding some tears. On the other hand, when you were feeling down — these times were rather rare — we felt honored to share your griefs and pains.

Remember all the secrets we shared? Remember the times we were so happy and excited that it took us an hour to change our pegs because we were so busy telling you the latest news? Remember the times we couldn't stand to study one more minute and we would invariably show up at the desk for a chat? We will remember those moments because it is partially these close relationships that made the struggle bearable and worthwhile.

It takes a special, talented person to be a mother-away-from-home, but if we were asked to make a list of capable candidates, five names would appear at the top of our list: "Mrs. C.," "Mrs. B.," "Minnie", "Judy," and "Helen."

We wish to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for all you have done and for just being you. We will miss you.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
 Somewhere ages and ages hence;
 Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
 I took the one less traveled by,
 And that has made all the difference.

Friendship has a special meaning when you have someone with whom to share

Often your tasks will be many,
 And more than you think you can do . . .
 Often the road will be rugged
 And the hills insurmountable, too . . .
 But always remember,
 the hills ahead
 Are never as steep as they seem,
 And with Faith in your heart
 Start upward
 And climb 'til you reach your dream,
 For nothing in life that is worthy
 Is ever too hard to achieve
 If you have the courage to try it
 And you have the Faith to believe . . .
 For Faith is a force that is greater
 Than Knowledge or power or skill
 And many defeats turn to triumph
 If you trust in God's wisdom and will . . .
 For Faith is a mover of mountains,
 There's nothing that God cannot do,
 So start out today
 with Faith in your heart
 And "Climb 'Til Your Dream Comes True!"

Lord, make me a channel of thy peace
 That where there is hatred
 I may bring love,
 That where there is wrong
 I may bring the spirit of forgiveness,
 That where there is discord
 I may bring harmony,
 That where there is error
 I may bring truth,
 That where there is doubt
 I may bring faith,
 That where there is despair
 I may bring hope,
 That where there are shadows
 I may bring thy light,
 That where there is sadness
 I may bring joy.

“Resolve to Keep Happy”

Be happy, talk happiness. Happiness calls out responsive gladness in others. There is enough sadness in the world without yours . . . Never doubt the excellence and permanence of what is yet to be.

. . . Join the great company of those who make the barren places of life fruitful with kindness . . .

Your success and happiness lie in you . . . The great enduring realities are love and service . . . Resolve to keep happy, and your joy and you shall form an invincible host against difficulties.

As a little girl I dreamed
Of the nurse I wished to be
I talked about it often
As I sat on daddy's knee

Now that I am all grown up
My goal is just in sight
For in a short time I will be

 And I want to live in the sun
 And do all the things that I have never done.

Every tomorrow a vision of hope.

This life is yours
 Take the power
 to choose what you want to do and do it well
 Take the power
 to love what you want in life and love it honestly
 Take the power

 Take the power
 to control your own life
 No one else can do it for you
 Take the power
 to make your life happy.

I have to live with myself, and so
I want to be fit for myself to know.
I want to be able as time goes by
Always to look myself in the eye.
I don't want to stand with the setting sun
And hate myself for the things I've done.

I don't want to hide on a closet shelf
A lot of secrets about myself,
And fool myself as I come and go
Into thinking that no one else will know
The kind of woman I really am
I don't want to cover myself with sham
I want to go out with my head erect
I want to deserve all men's respect.
Here in this battle for fame and self
I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and know
That I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

For I cannot hide myself from Me
Nor from my God who loveth me
And Knoweth all I say and do, —
So to Him I would e'er be true.
I want to live so honestly
That He will be well pleased with me.

To dream a nurses dream is a dream that not all can follow,

To help cure, restore and comfort is our biggest trial;

To go on when our bodies are too weary to smile no matter how hopeless the patients outcome may be,

And to pray the Lord shows us guidance
when death is ever so near;

This is our quest to follow our dream
no matter how unrewarding some days may seem

And I know the world is better by far because a nurse goes forth with love and devotion to reach a nurses dream.

So, we'll go no more a roving
 So late into the night,
 Though the heart be still as loving
 And the moon be still as bright.

For the sword wears its sheath,
 And the soul wears out the breast,
 And the heart must pause to breathe,
 And love itself have rest.

Though the night was made for loving,
 And the day returns too soon,
 Yet we'll go no more a roving
 By the light of the moon.

... With every step and every breath it's farther from youth and closer to death and the things I've realized now becom me to shut my eyes and I will grow to the age of maybe eighty years in such little time with this venturous mind what am I saying, don't I know myself from experience I'll never change nor cease to sail the sky till the day I die. I'll come to conclusion with fear or illusion, I'll live how I feel 'cause no matter how fast or slow, youth will go.

In three years time, you've grown,
Sympathy, empathy, these seeds were sown.
With each passing month, we've heard you sigh,
Sometimes a tear or an out and out cry.

The winds of time forever blow and sweep away the tears that flow.
It doesn't mean that you forget,
But hope and love you beget.

What you have learned and what you have done,
Has proved a point to everyone.
Each one of us has a special need,
For you it was but to succeed.

To this noble end, doing your best,
You've overcome the odds and passed the test.
The time of truth will now begin,
We finally can call you, our RN.

Tomorrow is a dream that leads me onward ...
 tomorrow is a path I've yet to choose,
 it's a chance I've yet to take,
 a friend I've yet to make,
 it's all the talent I have yet to use.
 Tomorrow is a dream that leads me onward,
 always just a step ahead of me ...
 it's the joy I've yet to know,
 the love I've yet to show,
 for it's the person I have yet to be.

When you start on your journey, then pray that the road is long, full of adventure, full of knowledge. Do not fear Laestrygonians . . . pray that the road is long, that you will enter parts seen for the first time with such pleasure, with such joy . . . to learn and learn again from those who have knowledge. Always keep Ithaca fixed in your mind . . . your ultimate goal. But do not hurry the voyage . . . it is better to let it last . . . until . . . you anchor at your island, rich with all you have gained along the way . . . Ithaca has given you a beautiful journey . . . without her you would have never taken the road.

Understanding
 Not more of light I ask, O God,
 But eyes to see what is:
 Not sweeter songs, but ears to hear
 The present melodies:
 Not more of strength, but how to use
 The power that I possess:
 Not more of love, but skill to turn
 A frown to a caress:
 Not more of joy, but how to feel
 Its kindly presence near
 To give to others all I have
 Of courage and of cheer.
 No other gifts, dear God, I ask,
 But only sense to see
 How best these precious gifts to use
 Thou hast bestowed on me.

That Woman is a Success . . .

Who loves life
and lives it to the fullest;
who has discovered and shared who seeks and finds that which is beautiful

You were there when tears were flowing freely, telling me it would be alright.

You helped to lessen the disappointments by sharing them with me.

You listened to my complaints and gave me support.

You were there to share the joys and the new experiences.

Thanks to you, Mom, Dad, Bryce, all my friends here at school and my relatives these past three years have quickly gone by.

All living things have an elemental goodness, but in mankind, his true nature is often largely submerged like a log in the river, by the environment he has created about him. But simply because it is submerged does not mean that idealism does not exist and despite times of pessimism I think the day will come when that idealism is allowed its full function and flowering.

One night I had a dream. I was walking along the beach with the Lord and across the sky flashed scenes from my life. For each scene, I noticed two sets of footprints in the sand, one belonged to me, and the other to the Lord. I noticed that in the lowest and most difficult times in my life there was only one set of footprints. This disturbed me and I asked the Lord about it. The Lord replied, "My precious, precious child, I love you, and would never, never leave you during your times of trials and suffering. When you see only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you."

"The Love Of Parents"

There is no greater gift in life
 Than the love our parents give,
 It's a wonderful example
 Of the way that we should live,
 It helps us trust in others,
 To be kind and show concern,
 For the love our parents give
 Helps us love others in return.

Remember when we toured Debbie Wasson's half of the room.
Remember the notorious wave from the tetanus movie.
Remember how hard it was to get a phone at 11 pm on a Wednesday.
Remember the day Debbie B. didn't get any mail.
Remember the excitement that ran through your body when the mail was in.
Remember when Mrs. G. told DB to pull "it" tight when doing a male catheterization and DB thought she was going to pull it off.
Remember the unknown thief that stole bra's and socks from the laundry room on a regular basis.
Remember when Pam tried taking a blood pressure with the cuff inside out.
Remember Brenda's eternal singing in the shower.
Remember short sheeted beds.
Remember when Kylinn asked her patient if she was ready to brush her teeth only to find out the woman didn't have any.
Remember when Sue encountered a hair ball climbing up the shower wall.
Remember when Denise and Tés took Rice Krispie showers.
Remember when someone hogged under RWD door and the bedspread had to be washed.
Remember coming back from volleyball games and dancing to "Another one Bites the Dust"
Remember the exercise group that came to a quick halt when we started surgery.
Remember when Mrs. Gustafson lectured for four hours on the abnormalities of the uterus while pointing to a diagram of the bladder.
Remember when Tanya called Mrs. Gustafson Mrs. Gussie to her face.
Remember when Sheila got so upset with the juniors that she smashed a pear on her knee.
Remember GABROVSEK!!!!
Remember long night talks with roommates.

Remember the night Linda tried to jump down the laundry shoot.
 Remember when Steve Corbin said that it was micro-orgasms that caused infections.
 Remember when Colleen and Mary Ellen were told they had floppy hair.
 Remember Mary Ellen and her very own sparkler party as a freshman.
 Remember our play, "He's having a baby".
 Remember banging on walls when neighbors were loud.
 Remember Colleen's robust voice.
 Remember when Sandy and Colleen held conversations from opposite ends of the hall.
 Remember when Brenda and Denise couldn't stop saying, "I don't want to be here." And someone was sure to reply, "Neither do I."
 Remember when L.J. was healthy. (Neither do we)
 Remember Linda's graceful fall up on post partum.
 Remember when it didn't click in the fifth week . . . and it still wasn't clicking in week nine.
 Remember Gwen's and Peggy's Gussie kite and Gwen's own personal Gussie whacker.

 Remember when Tes didn't know which X-ray was a lateral view for Dr. Amsler.
 Remember when Sheila was attacked by a wild killer spider plant in her sleep.
 Remember when Janet was sure there was a hamster in her bed.
 Remember when Lynn finally got to use her own vacuum cleaner.
 Remember the times that both the washer and dryer worked.
 Remember when Sandy S. woke Colleen up and had to be treated in the EmR for verbal abuse.
 Remember when there was a fire drill and L.J. slept right through it.
 Remember when we got in trouble for initiating the freshman as juniors.
 Remember careplan week.
 Remember when Lynn accidentally dyed her hair purple.
 Remember Mary Ellen's bird, "Luke"
 Remember the mad rush to the TV lounge at three PM to watch "General Hospital"
 Remember the "Seniors Only" striping ceremony.
 Remember when Janet demonstrated her parking skills to Denise and Deb at Mister Donut's.
 Remember when Alice started staying weekends.
 Remember when Janet danced on her bed with Santa Claus.
 Remember when Alice had a ladder in her room.
 Remember the horny toad award, and Kylinn got it twice in one month's time.
 Remember when you could hear Sandy S's or Colleen's phone conversations with your door shut and a pillow over your head.
 Remember how Cheryl corrupted us all.
 Remember when Pam went to Pudge's at 11:45 PM with her pajamas on.
 Remember our first senior party on the night of the Class of '81 graduation.
 Remember when Janine lost her purse at the Christmas party.
 Remember when Sharon prayed for snow so she could go skiing.
 Remember when Sharon went down nightly to visit Brian with her PJ's on.
 Remember when MJ had Mudd on her face.
 Remember when Gwen and Debbie were the Resident beauticians.

- I, Teresa Artley, will a teaspoon of confidence to Mary Jo Leprechaun, mankind to Marsha, a one way ticket to Boston for Debbie, most of my future to Mike and lots of love and luck to the class of 1982.
- I, Alice Bartlow, will my smile to the non-smilers of the junior class.
- I, Sandy Berkheiser, will my exceptional babysitter to anyone who needs a second "mom" for their children while attending school.
- I, Debbie Blosser, will Tes (and Mike) 84 shingles for her hope chest, Sue Eckley a mailbox full of letters, and to my honey, Geoff, I will a rolling stone and drugs.
- I, Janet Burd, will my position as Mother Superior of "The Convent" to any junior who feels she can handle it.
- I, Peggy Cartwright, will lots of love, laughter and sunshine to my family, my wrinkles to Bud, my bottle of White Out to Gwen, and to all of my friends of the class, I will much success & happiness.
- I, Pam Conrad, will my ability to stay in school without reading and studying the night before a test to anyone who hates it as much as I do.
- I, Colleen Crowley, will to my little sister, Hope Little, my ability to go out Thursday nights and still be able to function on Friday.
- I, Robin Welker-Duttry, will my exceptional ability to slide to success to any junior who will need it.
- I, Brenda Furtak, will my listening ear to anyone who knows the frustrations and rewards of taking time to listen.
- I, Marsha Hofer, will Barb Philbin my little black book of assertiveness hints and numbers to try them on.
- I, Cheryl Holt, will my ability to easily divert myself with arts and crafts rather than school work to anyone willing to accept this test.
- I, Barbie Hoover, will my faith and security of God to all who attend nursing school.
- I, Saralynn Jacobs, will my good looks, charm and ability to bullshit to Sandy Erickson.
- I, Vickie Lenhart, will to Holly Bailey my ability to stay out all night, study minimally and still survive this convent.
- I, Mark McDonald, will to Dave Hitesman and John Hlavnicka my ability to be inappropriate in any situation, and to Steve Holcolm, I will a list of 1001 reasons my anecdotal is late.
- I, Janine McGill will my ability to take a test and pass on Monday with sleep deprivation to anyone who needs it.
- I, Mary Ellen McKissick, will my ability to do a careplan or a G&D paper in one night to any underclassmen who is stupid enough to put it off until the last minute.
- I, Sharon Miller, will my ability to take a test on Monday morning suffering from sleep deprivation, and pass, to anyone who needs it.
- I, Denise Nihart, will one can of hair spray to anyone who needs to have their hair plastered.
- I, Nancy Panko, will my 45 minute drive twice daily to anyone suffering from temporary insanity.
- I, Sheila Schwab, will my ability to function on a minimal amount of sleep to any underclassmen that likes to keep late hours.
- I, Tanya Smith, will Christian Hope (Not to be confused with shallow optimism) to any and all who would receive the gift of life — Jesus Christ.
- I, Gwen Stamets, will my maturity and sense of responsibility to the junior class.
- I, Sandy Stanzione, will Barb Philbin my shoes in order to follow in my footsteps.
- I, Kylinn Stone, will all of my laxatives and antacids to anyone who needs them during careplans, tests, or other stressful situation.
- I, Donald Swanson, will my sex appeal, or lack thereof to any male nursing student who thinks he can handle it.
- I, Laurie Doty Wagner, will my ability to finish G&D papers on time to Lisa Smith.
- I, Linda Weinhardt, will to Ann Mitchell and Hope Little my ability to withstand this place and survive.
- We, Alice and Janet, will our ability of sneaking males to our floor on weekends to any junior who dares to try.
- We, Sharon and Janine, will room 418 to the occupants of 318.
- We, Peggy and Gwen, will our good housekeeping techniques and the shovel to get through to any underclassmen that need it.

Epilogue

*Friends, neighbors, countrymen,
Lend me your ear whilst I tell you such a tale of woe —
Nursing is no bed of roses 'ere by chance someone has told you so.
Then again I recollect — that yes it may be so . . .
For it seems we roll into many a thorn as along the way we go.
Indeed it isn't all that bad, there is some joy to share.
For just as the roses bloom, we've grown patience, love and care.
And now as at last we leave this habitation . . .
We rejoice — We've reached our CELEBRATION!*
